PASTORAL PLANNING SURVEY: The deadline for completing the Pastoral Planning Survey has been extended by one week. For those who have not yet taken it, the survey will remain open through and including May 31st. Please be sure to complete the survey - YOUR VOICE COUNTS!

www.research.net/s/pastoralplanning

Please take the time to express your voice by answering questions about pastoral planning that will take about 20 minutes to complete. Your input is essential to the open and inclusive process on which we are embarking together. Your participation will help shape the future direction of our Archdiocese and help to express our mission in new ways that meet the needs, challenges, and changing opportunities of our times.

Our Holy Father Pope Francis describes the intent of this process best: “I dream of a missionary option, that is a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church’s customs, ways of doing things, times and schedules, languages and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today’s world rather than for her self-preservation.”

As we try to discern God’s will for the Archdiocese of Hartford, please add your voice by completing the Pastoral Planning Survey. It is available in English, Spanish and Polish to anyone 18 years or older.

Thank you in advance for your time, participation, and for expressing your unique VOICE.

A Weekly Bible Study

Solemnity of Pentecost
John 15:26-27; 16:12-15

Jesus has been quietly preparing our hearts to receive his Spirit. Have we been paying attention? Today's Gospel and those of the last three Sundays have been taken from the "Farewell Discourse" of Jesus. In the context of a sacred meal, Jesus shares in intimate terms his deepest desires for all of us.

These five chapters are filled with language of love, assurance and hopefulness. As Jesus speaks to us in this fourth Gospel we hear: I will not leave you orphan ...remain in my love...I call you my friends...your grief will become joy...Father, they are your gift to me.

Jesus also speaks at length of an "Advocate" who will come. This designation speaks to us of companion, guide, comforter, counselor, One who stands by our side and makes our concerns his own. As John iterates in today's Gospel, this Spirit will witness, guide, declare and glorify. And this, too, will be our mission as disciples.

Jesus has, indeed, given much assurance to his followers during this Last Supper discourse. There is something we should not miss in today's Gospel as he declares "I have much more to tell you but you cannot bear it now." Our "bearing of the truth" is a lifelong process. It is one in which the Spirit accompanies us as we grow into spiritual maturity, and as we come to understand better God's divine truths as well as our own inner convictions. As we grow in faith, our witness becomes stronger, as does the Spirit's power at work in us.

Let us renew this day within our hearts the power of this Advocate at work within us to inspire, lead and guide us in our faith journey. Let us continue to pray for an increase in the gifts that empower that journey. And let us grow in the truth so that we, too, may inspire, lead and guide others in the faith, that in all we do we may glorify God.

A PRAYER TO THE SPIRIT

Holy Spirit,
who sent Christ Jesus to carry the Good news to the poor,
we pray to you:

Help us to continue your work
by serving the poor, our brothers and sisters.

A SIGNIFICANT DAY

“And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were” (Acts 2:2). The Holy Spirit’s arrival on that first Pentecost was signaled by a rush of wind. We all know what it’s like when our windows are open just as a summer storm rises up. Curtains fly, papers become airborne, house plants shudder, dust is scattered. A rush of wind disrupts the orderliness of our home. The coming of the Holy Spirit, as celebrated each year at Pentecost, can also disrupt ways that have become comfortable and orderly. The Church always needs Pentecost. We need the breath of God’s Spirit to blow away any complacency or malaise that has settled into our faith. Jesus breathes on his disciples and they receive the Holy Spirit. With that reception comes the power to share the Good News of salvation. Today, this is no less true for us.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Marriage is ideally a parish event today, but in the first three centuries of the church’s history, it was a household celebration guided by civil law and pagan customs. Changes happened quickly after the Peace of Constantine in 312, and the fresh air after long persecution brought some creativity. The speech that the father of the groom’s family gave before dinner or the veiling or crowning of the bride (or even the spouse’s arrival at the honeymoon suite) attracted a prayer of blessing.

With amazing rapidity, worship was propelled out of the intimate setting of house churches to large public gathering spaces, and some parts of the marriage ceremony began to migrate with the growing community to the new spaces. In Rome, the veiling of the bride with the customary daily headgear of a married woman became the central liturgical act, accompanied by a biblical prayer for her integrity and fruitfulness. There were no vows as such (just as there are no vows to this day in the Orthodox marriage rite). In the liturgy, after hearing John’s Gospel account of the wedding at Cana, the bride was veiled and blessed, and the priest gave the kiss of peace to the husband, who then gave it to his bride. The liturgy of Rome traveled far, and everywhere it went, marriage became a church celebration.

The Archdiocese of Hartford will offer a three-day pilgrimage to Philadelphia to attend a Papal Mass celebrated by Pope Francis from September 25-27th. See the bulletin boards for more information.

Easter Communion Regulation: Catholics are obliged to receive Communion at least once between the First Sunday of Lent and Trinity Sunday.

We continue the 2015 Archbishop's Annual Appeal in our parish. The A.A.A. helps provide the critical funding needed to feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, counsel those in despair, offer much-needed assistance to the unemployed, and make medical care available to those without health insurance. Your gift to the 2015 Appeal will help continue these and other vital ministries, services, & programs that reach out to so many in need.

Dear Parishioners: The writings of our Confirmation candidates 2015 are now being included in our weekly bulletin. It is very evident through their words that it takes a community of believers to raise a child in the faith. Thank you grandparents, parents, godparents, sponsors, catechists, aunts & uncles and mentors for witnessing your faith. Their essays are just an amazing testimony to the beautiful faith and spirituality that resides in each and every heart of our teens. We as adults, can learn so much from them. Let us keep passing on this wonderful gift of faith.

God Bless, Noranne S. Wamester, Pastoral Associate

Confirmation Name Essay

For my Saint name, I chose Saint Sebastian. I chose Saint Sebastian because he is the patron Saint of athletes. I have been an athlete all my life, and sports such as basketball are very important to me and a big part of my life. Whenever I play sports I feel calmer and closer to God. I now know that Saint Sebastian is there looking out for me, protecting me and making sure I do not get hurt. Whenever I am in need of help or just someone to talk to, I know I can pray to Saint Sebastian and he will get me through any tough time I may have. This is why I chose Saint Sebastian as my Saint name, and chose him to accompany me on this journey through Confirmation.

Service Reflection

On Saturday May 9, 2015 I helped to sell roses for St. Gerard's Center for Life, a charity that helps unwed mothers who are pregnant. It was fitting to sell roses because the mothers who bought these roses that were for Mother's Day were also giving to other mothers that do so much for their children even before they are born. Since it was Mother's Day this helped mothers who choose to have their babies instead of choosing abortion. This is a great cause and will certainly help those mothers who are in need of support.
